DISSATISFACTION .- It will be seen from a communication in this issue, that considerable excitement and confusion existed during the session of the Yadkinville Convention, and it is evident that Mr. Graves was troyed. A vast quantity of large hail not the first choice of that body.-A majority of the people of this District may not be satisfied with the result.

The Grain Prospect.

Notwithstanding the rather gloomy prospect of the wheat crop in this section of the State,-(not more than half a crop being predicted) the oat crop looks very promising, and the young corn is in good condition.

Our young friend, Jacob Sides, writes from Texas that the wheat crop is excellent in that State, and all other crops flourishing.

The prospect is also represented as bright in Southern Georgia for an abundant crop of wheat, corn, oats and barley.

There is a controversy in progress between the friends of Senator Merrimon and Gov. Vance, relative to the U.S. Senatorship. It is growing warmer and warmer. It is very well known, that at the late election of U.S. Senator, by the Legislature, the contest was between Merrimon and Vance, the former receiving the Republican support, was elected. Both the getlemen will probably be candidates again, hence the agitation of the subject now.

Senator Mcrrimon is out in a very lengthy eard in vindication of himself against imputations made against him in reference to his election to the Senate of the United States in

The Charlotte Observer puts it thus "Senator Merrimon claims that he didn't sell out to the Democracy in 1872, when he jumped into the United States Senate through the back door; that he only defeated Vance's pledged cancus. The seventy-eight Democrats who voted for Vance represented the Democracy of the State, and in their character as representatives were authorized to cast the vote of their party. Senator Merrimon sold them out for a mess of pottage, and now labors hard in a five column card to prove that he is not conscience stricken.

The Presidential Election Fraud investigation in Washington so far establishes shameful and criminal transactions by the Radicals in stealing the Presidency. It is in evidence that the Louisiana and Florida Presidential elections were carried for Hays by an organized conspiracy of fraud. Unless the testimony of the witnesses is successfully impeached. the Republican party is well nigh ruined in the estimation of the people. The sceptre is fast departing from the party, and the outlook is that the Conservative Democratic party will have an easy race in the next Presidential election. The New York Times, a leading Republican paper, says:

"Whatever infamy may be heapny may be riddled, the documentary sacking, warp and weft, twine, evidence he produced must receive careful attention. Mr. Sherman is placed in an unfortunate position rather by his treatment of the copy of the letter attributed to him than by the letter itself. He had proclaimed himself so eager to meet every accusation to prove non intercourse with Anderson, that his evasive answers when the copy was preduced, damage him exceedingly .-They raise a presumption against him that will not be easily overcome." ment specimens of rye 7 feet high; also some particularly fine oats.—News.

From the Sentinel Our Revenue Service. STOKES COUNTY, May 30, 1878.

One of the principal causes assigned by the opponents of the reduction of the tax on tobacco and whiskey is that the present tax is necessary to raise revenue for the government. Well, it does take a lot of money to run this government, especially the revenue branch of it, as the following will show. We have a distillery in this county where the store-keepers have been ing that time the amount of whiskey made prid a tax of $600. Here the government paid out three dollars for every one taken in. In Danbury this week the fixtures of a tobacco factory that had been seized were sold for $23. This factory had been guarded for probably three months at an expense of $2 per day. There are three or four other fac tories in the county that have netted the government about in the same proportion. It is a great wonder that the present tax on tobacco and whiskey will pay the expenses of the Revenue Department. What is true of this department in this county, we have no doubt has its parallels in other counties, and the people can form some idea how their money goes to feed and pamper the hangers on to the skirts of them that be in power.

DAN RIVER. The Normal School.

The following rates over the transportation lines have been obtained for the benefit of teachers attending the normal school, at Chapel Hill, on the 17th .-Tickets to be sold at ali stations on the various lines, at any time from the 12th of June to the close of the school:

These samples are from a large manufactory in Scotland, and cover everything except paper. You know that where there is a will there is a way.— The more I think of the jute manufacture the more am I impressed with its value to North Carolina. The Yadkinville Convention.

EDITORS PRESS:-The Judicial Conention met at Yadkinville on Saturday last. There were large delegations from all the counties composing the District, and Messrs. Wilson, Clement and Graves each had a strong following .-The Convention was called to order by the Chairman of the District Convention, by calling J. C. Buxton to act as temporary Chairman. On motion of Mr. Williamson, from Davie, each delegation from the nine counties composing the District, retired for the purpose of selecting a delegate to act as a committee on permanent organization, consisting of one member from each county. The Committee reported as follows: Capt. Noah Ford, for President, G. M. Mathes and H. W. Donglas, Secretaries. Nominations being next in order, Mr. Watson, in a very handsome tribute,

Maj. Kerr nominated J. M. Clement, of Davie. E. L. Vaughn nominated Professor Ray invited me to come and J. F. Graves, of Surry. The balloting then commenced and resulted for the first five ballots as fol-nominated T. J. Wilson, of Forsyth .-

Clement, 54, embracing the counties of Yadkin 1, Rowan 2, Wilkes 2, Davie earlier than last year.

Wilson 44, embracing the counties of Forsyth 1, Stokes 1, Davidson 2, and Davie 14. Graves, 2, embracing the counties of Surry 1 and Alleghany 1. As will be seen the representation in the House of Representatives was assumed as the basis of votes to which each county was entitled.

On the sixth ballot, the delegation from Davie got into a wrangle, part in- large a crowd in town as on last year. sisting that they should abide by the instructions of the County Convention that Mr. Robbins would not be present and the will of the people, and adhere to deliver the literary address, on acto their respective candidates; and part count of the death of his wife, many insisting that the vote should be given to Clement. The majority finally ruled and a protest was entered by the Wil- ture on "Little Things," your corresson men, and a similar one entered by pondent among the rest. My friend, the minority from Rowan county. The excitement was intense at this point, and the Wilson men seeing that there could be no satisfactory termination of and they played well too. But we had the matter, went in a body to Graves, other good things besides, furnished by which left the matter as follows:

Clement 6. Graves 6. Wilkes then threw her two votes in favor of Graves, which left the matter as follows: Clement 4. Graves 8. Mr. Graves was therenpon declared nominated. The Convention then nominated Joseph Dobson, the present incumbent, Solicitor for the next four years, wherethe Convention for their expression of some one whose name I did not learn, as renewed confidence, and promised that you can never get an introduction to he should be heard from before the day anybody at Oak Ridge. Mr. Smith's of election.

The selection of Mr. Graves was not happy one for the nomination of Judge. He is a gentleman of fine legal mind, but has not that strong attachment and confidence of the people, which either Judge Wilson or Mr. Clement possessperhaps owing to the fact that he is not so well known. His nomination has not given general satisfaction throughout the district, and it was only through the want of unanimity on the part of the Wilson and Clement men that he received the nomination.

There should have been no opposition to Judge Wilson in this contest, and neither Mr. Graves nor Mr. Clement have shown a spirit of generosity towards Mr. Wilson which he had a right to expect so soon after his overthrow by a Radical Supreme Court from a position to which he had been elevated by a large majority of the votes of this District.

It is to be seen what the State Convention will do with the matter, but we will venture the opinion, that if they carry out the wishes of the Democratic party in this State, they will disregard this District nomination and place Judge Wilson in nomination.

Yours. DAVIDSON.

Kernersville Letter.

MESSRS. EDITORS :- Wheat harvest is here in good earnest, and while I am writing I hear Mr. J. W. Beard's reaper laying low the golden grain. He has 26 acres in one field in sight of my window, besides some 30 acres more on another farm. He mowed some fifty acres of clover this season, and realized a fine turn out, in the way of hav.

I went to Oak Ridge last week, and saw some wheat fields that surpassed anything of the kind I ever saw anywhere; the wheat was as high as a man's shoulder, and as thick on the ground as it could stand, and the heads looked to me as if they were six inches long and hung down from the weight of the grain. One thing is sure, the good Quakers in that region are model farmers, and can hold a hand in that department with any one from any where else; and that reminds me that, the other day, as I was coming up street, see his wheat crop, when he took me into his garden and showed me the product of a single grain, a volunteer, consisting of 33 stalks with well filled heads. on Tuesday morning, at 91 A. M., the exercise was opened with prayer by Rev. M. L. Wood, and for three hours the large audience was entertained with declamations from the young men and music from the young ladies. There were two compositions in French by Misses Robertson and Lindsay. Also several elegant compositions in English. All the pupils showed that they had been taught by skillful teachers.

I perceived that taste and style, as well as scholarship, are important considerations. There was an ease and elegance of manner that is seldom attained by pupils so young. I was informed that the examination of the classes, which lasted three days, was very thorough and satisfactory. Prof. Trawick has long experience in the best institutions of learning, in the country, and is well qualified by ripe and thorough scholarship. He has two competent aids, Miss Thomas, in literary department, and Mrs. Trawick in music and ornamental. It is an able and worthy

The writer as well as others were disappointed, as the Hon. F. C. Robbins, in consequence of severe family affliction, could not be present to deliver the literary address. Rev. Mr. Wood, however, very handsomely and appropriately addressed the audience.

The attendance both night and day was quite large. This school has a bright out-look and it is thought the next term, commencing August 1, 1878, will be much larger than the previous. The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Wood, and we have seldom listened to a more interesting and forcible sermon. Thus closed one of the most pleasant entertainments ever held Риг.

BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS.

Dr. Satchwell moved that the society proceed to the election, by ballot, of the State Board of Medical Examiners, as the term of the present board had expired by law. He accompanied his mo tion with some forcible remarks on the importance of the board as a most valnable auxiliary in the great cause of medical improvement and reform in the State and its assistance in the needed works of a higher standard of qualifications on the part of those turned loose annually as doctors upon the community; having for six years been a member of the board he knew something of its arduous labors and responsibilities and was opposed to the election of any one as a member who was not known to possess a high personal and profession al character. The members should be selected from every section of the State. He nominated the following ticket which was duly elected: Drs. T F. Wood, H T Bahnson, T D Haigh, G I Kirby, P E Hines, Joseph Graham and

The chairman of the committee on Credentials stated that applications were frequently made for membership by persons not present at the meeting. He informed the friends of all such that it is essential that the applicants be present to sign the constitution and by-laws. There were many applicants present for examinition to obtain certificates of competency. As the law now stands no man can legally practice medicine in the State or collect his fees, unless he has obtained his certificate from the board. Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

Pete Whetstone and the Mail Boy. Pete Whetstone, of Arkansas, was once travelling on horsebeck through shape, and of a yellowish cream color, the interior of the state, and called one | with ten black lines running lengthwise evening to stay all night at a little log down the wing covers. The head and cabin near the road, where entertain- thorax are of an orange-brown color, ment and the post-office were kept. Two spotted and marked with black. other strangers were there, and the mail rider rode up about dark. Supper being over, the mail carrier and the three strangers were taken into a small room, furnished with a good fire and entomologist to detect the difference .two beds, which were to accommodate the four persons for the night. The mail carrier was a little, shabby, dirty, hard-looking wretch, with whom none of the gentlemen liked the idea of sleeping. Pete Whetstone eyed him closely as he asked:

"Where do you sleep to-night, my "I'll thleep with you, I reckin," lisped the youth, " or with them other fel-

The other two gentlemen took the hint and occupied one of the beds immediately, leaving the other and confab to be enjoyed by Pete and the mail boy said that they are not fond of certain vatogether as best they could. Pete and the boy both commenced hauling off their duds, and Pete getting into bed first and wishing to get rid of sleeping with the boy, remarked very earnestly:

" My friend, I'll tell you beforehand, I've got the itch, and you had better not parts of wood ashes. But great cauget in here with me, for the disease is entching."

The boy, who was just getting into bed too, drawled out very coolly:

The three men vowed to keep the affair a secret but it eventually leaked out.

FORCE OF HABIT.-In most of our colleges it is the custom for one member of the faculty-usually the presidentto have the supervision of all absent and dilatory students, and to him every such one is to go to explain the cause of his absence or tardiness. No more kind and indulgent guardian of the college discipline could have been found than Dr. A-. Every student knew well his old and stereotyped way of saying, "Well, well, I'll excuse you this time; but don't let it happen again," Although not in accordance with the usual rule, Mr. H. ____, a married man, had been admitted to pursue the studies of the regular course. One day he was absent and on appearing with his class in the doctor's room, he explained, with great and assorting; the large and fine berembarrassment, that the arrival of an heir been the cause of his detention .-Without looking up from the papers on his table, and apparently without a thought as to the nature of the excuse, so long as there was one, the Doctor graciously remarked: "Well, well, I'll excuse you this time; but don't let it

THE COLORADO BEETLE.

[Raleigh News,] RALEIGH, June 1st. Apprehensions having been expressed that this bug, which has been so destructive to the potatoe and other crops in the western and north-western States, has made its appearance in Cumberland and Warren counties, I respectfully ask for the information of our farmers, space in your columns for such description of it as I have been able to learn from the Iron, most authentic sources.

DESCRIPTION AND HABITS. It is known as Doryphora decem lineata, or western ten-lined potato-bug; was first found in Arkansas and Missouri in the year 1823, where it was feeding on the vine of a species of wild potato,-On farms it feeds chiefly on the potato, tomato, egg-plant, thorn-apple, black henbane, &c. Its eggs, from the number of seven to twelve hundred-are deposited on the young leaves of the potato.-The larvæ hatch out in a few days, and feed from seventeen to twenty days .-Their powers of multiplication are so great that the Canadian Entomologist estimates that a single pair, if allowed to increase unmolested, would, in one season, produce over sixty millions .-There are generally three broods anually, the last brood remaining underground all winter and appearing as perfeet beetles the following spring. The larva is at first of a dark reddish brown, but becomes paler and brightens as it matures. The head is black, and it has a ring of black on the first segment of its body, and two rows of black spots on each side. The perfect insect is about half an inch in length, of a thick, oval

KINDRED INSECTS. There is another insect so closely resembling the true Colorado beetle, that it is difficult for any but an experienced This insect is called Doryphoro Juncta, and has the second and third stripes always united behind, and sometimes before, giving it the appearance of having only eight stripes, instead of ten, on the wing eovers. The beetle soon after its discovery was found to be moving eastward, at about the average rate of sixtytwo miles a year. It crossed the Mississippi river in 1864, and it was calculated by entomologists that it would reach the Atlantic coast in 1878.

DAMAGE BY BEETLES. The damages by the beetle are confined chiefly to the Irish potato, and it is rieties, such as Peachblow, Early Rose, Peerless, Chifi, &c.

EXTERMINATING REMEDY. The most effective remedy yet found is Paris Green mixed with eight to twelve parts of wheat flour, or three tion should be observed in the use of this poison, so as not to inhale it, The insect itself is said, on good authority, to possess poisonous properties, and persons have suffered from incautious goods. handling of them.

Shipping Fruit.

The following letter will be of interest, and affords some information to fruit growers of our State, concerning the packing and shipping of fruit: ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY BRANCH)

OFFICE, 638 BROADBY, New York, May 22nd, 1878.

Mr. T. D. Gillespie, Sup't. : DEAR SIR:-During my stay in New York, I have paid particular attention to the receipt of strawberries and vegetables from the South, and have the pleasure to report that all I have seen have been in good order. Not a misconnection has been had since the berry season; the crates are handled very carefully; the consignees generally call at Jersey City with their drays; and in case this is not done, prompt deliveries are made by the wagons of the Adams Express Company.

During the season berries by express have come in such good order, that often consignments are sold before arrival, telegraphic notes being sent advising of Dealers he?e express themselves well pleased with the condition of berries shipped by Express, but say that better prices would have been received had and assorting; the large and fine berries should be packed in separate crates from small and inferior quality.

As the pench senson will soon commence information to growers and shippers will not be amiss, and the dealers here suggest that bushel crates be used. happen again." The announcement was greeted by the class with the most tumultuous applause.

Peaches should be placed in crates by hand and closely packed, the crates to be made with slate half inch apart, and that care be had in assorting the fruit-the fine and indifferent to be
